Since there will be no bulletin for Easter Sunday, here is the service music you will if you worship in person or watch the video at home.

Our prelude will be The Vermillion Sunrise; Lord, Open the Door, by Alexandre Pierre François Boëly.

We will enjoy two Easter hymn tunes: Jesus Christ is Risen Today and The Day of Resurrection!

Our anthem, The Strife is O'er, focuses our celebration of the Risen Lord. The text, originally in Latin, Finita iam sunt proelia (Now the battle is over), was published in 1695 as part of a collection of German Jesuit hymns. Almost two hundred years later, pastor Francis Pott translated the text into English, published in 1861 in the first Anglican hymnal, Hymns Ancient and Modern. The music was composed by Melchior Vulpius, who included the tune Gelobet sei Gott in his volume of hymns Ein Schon Geistlich Gesangbuch (A Beautiful Sacred Songbook) in 1609.

Our postlude will be the Toccata from Symphony no. 5 in f, Op. 42, no. 1, by Charles-Marie Widor. The final movement of the Symphony it is the French composer's most famous piece, often played at the conclusion of scores of services, from feast days to wedding ceremonies.
