Something's cooking in the kitchen!

New refrigerator, flooring.

As we anticipate a return of fellowship events soon, renovations in the kitchen are nearing completion. Check out the new flooring and refrigerator (left); when the floor is completed, new prep tables will make it easier to navigate the workspace. Thanks to all who have worked on this project!

Music Notes for this week.

This Sunday is Father's Day and through music, we shall honor all the fathers in our congregation, as well as Our Father, who art in heaven.

In praise of our heavenly Father, we shall sing Dear Lord and Father of Mankind (Rest) and This Is My Father's World (Terra Beata). A father twice over, Roger will play the harpsichord for the Special Music. He has chosen the Prelude in F, BWV 928 by Johann Sebastian Bach (1685-1750), who himself fathered 22 children!

Giving Catalog concerts start June 21

by Emily Enders Odom, Mission Engagement & Support

LOUISVILLE —Because live music has been sorely missed by so many during the pandemic, the Presbyterian Giving Catalog is pleased to present “Summer of Song: A Concert Series.”

Conceived as a way of thanking supporters of the Presbyterian Giving Catalog, each of the three “Summer of Song” concerts will be available live to Catalog donors and to groups who plan to hold viewing parties. Once a concert has premiered, it will then be available for Catalog donors and watch party groups to view online for the remainder of the summer.

“Our donors continue to blow us away with their generosity,” said Lauren W. Rogers, project manager for Digital Fundraising, Special Offerings and the Presbyterian Giving Catalog. “We’re so excited to offer the Summer Concert Series as a ‘thank you’ to these faithful donors. It’s also an opportunity for people to come back together — after being apart for so long — around our shared appreciation of music.”

Each of the three concerts will premiere at 7 p.m. EDT on the dates below and will feature the following artists:

June 21 - Elizabeth Stockton Perkins is a rising sophomore at Vassar College and a lifelong member of First Presbyterian Church of Wooster, Ohio. Perkins will lift her voice in song with accompaniment by Cameron Edmiston.

July 21 - The Stillman College Concert Choir, under the direction of Jocqueline K. Richardson, is a choral ensemble of students, both music and non-music majors. Stillman College is a Presbyterian-affiliated, historically Black liberal arts college in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

August 21 - The Mission Musicians, coordinated by mission engagement advisor, William McConnell, of Louisville. These Presbyterian musicians are justice oriented and believe in the power of music to spread God's love.
