Music Notes.

This week we celebrate the Transfiguration of Christ with hymns that signify this moment when Jesus is flanked by Moses and Elijah on the mountain: Jesus, Take Us To The Mountain and Sing of God Made Manifest. The Anthem also reflects on the Transfiguration: O Wondrous Sight, O Vision Fair. Both the text and music were first created – separately - in the 15th century. The music, known as The Agincourt Carol, was originally written around 1415 to accompany the tale of Henry V's victory over the Normans. John Mason Neale (1818-1866) wrote the text that will be sung on Sunday. Neale was a priest, scholar and author who translated numerous hymns from Greek and Latin into English, including Christ is Made the Sure Foundation, Of the Father's Love Begotten and The Day of Resurrection.
